

It happened today

Monday, 18 August 2008 00:00

The new David Byrne/Brian Eno album "Everything that Happens Will Happen Today" is now available for purchase from their website.

The album is available in three different formats: download only, download + CD and download + CD in deluxe packaging with bonus tracks and goodies. Both products ship November 30, but you can download the tracks right away.

The site is Flash-only, so it might not work if your browser doesn't support Flash.