

On September 11, 2012 David Byrne and St. Vincent's Annie Clark will release their album "Love This Giant". According to the press release, the album was recorded primarily at Water Music in Hoboken, NJ over the past two years. Byrne and Clark co-wrote ten of the 12 tracks and each wrote one song solo. The two restricted themselves by working within the concept of a brass band with additional drum programming by John Congleton (The Walkman, Modest Mouse, Xiu Xiu). The two will take off for a tour during which they will perform songs from the album as well as some familiar ones from their own catalog.
